Thursday, June 26. 1707.

From the Amsterdam Gazette, dated July 1.

Naples, June 7.

Yesterday the Viceroy sent 1500 Dragoons to Capua; and has order'd 600 Cuirassiers to hold themselves ready to march with the Horse-Guards, and attend him when he shall set out for Gaeta, whither he has sent 28 Brass Cannon, with Stores of Ammunition of all sorts, and that Place is now in a good State of Defence. A Guard of above 2000 Soldiers go the Rounds in this City Day and Night to keep all quiet, and have Orders to kill any that offer to make the least Tumult. The Viceroy has dispatch'd Feluccas to Toulon, to press the sending of the Succour he has desir'd of 8000 Spaniards, Italians, and Walloons, that are to be embark'd there, together with Stores of Ammunition.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated July 1.

Naples, June 7. There have been 2 Commotions of the Populace in this City, one occasion'd by the Bakers raising the Price of their Meal; the other because Bread was not brought as usual to the Market. The Viceroy causes the Tax of 2 per Cent on all Incomes to be levied with great Rigour; and the Sums arising by that Tax not being sufficient for supplying the extraordinary Expence of the War, his Excellency has taken from the several Banks in this City the greatest Part of the ready Money that was in them: Which has caus'd great Murmuring. To Day the Viceroy's Son set out from hence with a Detachment of Troops, to reinforce those that are on the Frontier of the Abruzzo. In the meantime the Price of Corn and Meal rises daily; the Women begin to retire to Places of Security, and many Persons carry their best Effects into the Convents. Several Men have been seiz'd, and 'tis reported a List was found about some of them of the Places of this City whither 'twas design'd to draw People together to make a general Insurrection.

From the Amsterdam Gazette, dated July 1.

Rome, June 11. A Bridge is made over the Tiber, near Fiano 12 Miles from hence, for the Imperialists, who continue their March with much Expedition notwithstanding the great Heats. Their Number is advis'd to be about 10300. They are furnish'd with Plenty of Provisions and Refreshments wherever they come. A Captain is imprison'd, for lifting Men here to send them to Seg. Scarpaleggia in the Kingdom of Naples.

From the Amsterdam Courant, dated June 28.

Vienna, June 15. The Neapolitan Noblemen and Gentlemen that had been here a long Time, are all gone for Italy, to assist in the Expedition into that Kingdom: Among them is the Duke de Thelese, whose prudent Behaviour during his Stay here made him extremely valued and belov'd. Cardinal Grimani has sent an Express hither from Rome, with Letters, in which he makes bitter Complaints, that this Court should take out of his Hands the Direction of the Emperour's Affairs in the Kingdom of Naples, to give it to Count Martiniz; he declares he is very much discontented at it, the rather because the deceas'd Emperour, his present Imperial Majesty, and King Charles of Spain, having committed to his Care the keeping up the Party that is in the Kingdom of Naples for the House of Austria, he has done them very eminent Service that way. The Emperour is in some Perplexity upon this Matter, and cannot easily resolve which of the two Competitors to prefer: In the mean Time Count Martiniz pursues his Journey for Naples.

From the Amsterdam Gazette, dated July 1.

Milan, June 11. The Troops that are on the March for Naples, receiv'd their Artillery at Sinigaglia where it was landed, and they make Use of 1400 Oxen to draw it. A Tax is laid upon the Secular and Regular Clergy in this Duchy, which will produce 200000 Crowns, and be applied to the War. The Duke de Moles having receiv'd a Courier from Vienna, is gone to Guastalla to confer with Count Martiniz. The Earl of Peterborough who arriv'd here some Days ago, has had several Conferences with Prince Eugene.

Milan, June 14. The 12th Instant the Duke de Moles return'd hither from Guastalla, and the same Evening Prince Eugene set out Post for Turin: His Field-Equipage, which is large and magnificent, went away before. The Secretary of War, and the grand Chancellor, are to govern here in his Absence. The 11th Prince Eugene declar'd Don Francisco Colmanero Castellan of our Castle: Count Konigseck who commanded in it is gone to Piemont.

Venice, June 18. They write from Brescia, that the Earl of Peterborow had pass'd by there in his Way to Vienna. Count Martiniz, having had a Conference with the Duke de Moles at Guastalla, is gone after the Detachment that is marching to Naples; where the Viceroy is very much perplex'd in the present Conjuncture, because he distrusts most of the Nobility, who have not forgot his past ill Usage of them.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated July 1.

From the Camp of the Imperialists at Terni, June 12.

The 1st of this Month Orders were given for our getting ready to march the next Day. General Werzel being return'd to the Army from Rome, it was resolv'd to change our Route and march directly to Rome, leaving Ancona and Loreto on our Left, and crossing the Mountains on our Right. So the 2d we march'd to Fiumicino; the 3d to Jeci; the 4th to Montechio; and the 5th to Camerino. The 6th we halted. The 3 last Days Marches were long and tiresome, because we did not find Ground fit to encamp on, and wanted Water and Forrage. The 7th we proceeded to Colle Fiorito; the 8th to Ponte di Sancta Luccia; the 10th to Spoleto, where we halted the 11th; and to Day arriv'd here. We learn by the Advices from Naples, that several Places of that Kingdom are fortified and put into a good State of Defence, and particularly Pescara and Gaeta; that the Duke d'Atri has not only disarm'd the Peasants, but likewise publish'd an Order forbidding the Inhabitants to depart the Kingdom on Pain of Death; but that notwithstanding that Order several Persons of Quality are retir'd to Rome and elsewhere.

Venice, June 17. Count Martiniz and the Duke de Caserta pass'd through Bologna the 11th Instant, having 20 Calches with them, in their Way to Naples. The Equipage of the Marquis del Vasto pass'd through Bologna the same Day, to joyn the Detachment of Imperialists who have halted at Pagliano, whence they intend to advance directly to Gaeta and thence to Naples. 'Tis advis'd from that City, that the Viceroy has divided it into 130 Quarters, and assign'd those Divisions to the Guard of Parties of Horse and Militia; and that he has countermanded the Troops he had sent to the Abruzzo, having determin'd to defend only Capua, Gaeta, and the other fortified Places.

From the Amsterdam Courant, dated July 1.

Genoa, June 12. 20000 Pistoles are sent from hence to Milan, in part of the Contributions which this Republick is to furnish. The Pope has permitted the grand Duke of Tuscany to lay a Tax upon the Clergy, in Proportion to the Contributions which his his Territories are to pay to the Imperialists. Vessels are hir'd here and at Leghorne, to transport ('tis said) to Barcelona, 2000 Troopers with their Horses, and 1000 dismounted Troopers. Baron Kniphausen, who is to go to King Charles III. on the Part of the King of Prussia, is now here. The 8th Instant the Viceroy of Sardinia put to Sea from hence for that Island, in a Galley belonging to our Republick; and this Morning the Marquis de los Balbafes, who is made Viceroy of Sicily in the Room of the Marquis de Bedmar, put to Sea likewise for Palermo with 2 Gallies with which our Republick have thought fit to accomodate him.

Stockholm, June 15. The Queen Grand-Mother being at Carelsberg, had caus'd a Cage to be hung up to the Cieling of her Chamber, and looking whether it was hung as she would have it, she walk'd backward, keeping her Eye upon the Cage, and tripping at a Ladder that lay on the Floor, fell, and broke her Left-Arm near the Wrist. She was immediately let Blood, and Her Arm was set by an able Surgeon: Her Majesty having scarce had any Fever upon it, 'tis hop'd she will escape this Danger as she did the like 30 Years ago when she broke her Right-Arm. The 3 Burchers who had engag'd to help the Muscovite General Officers to make their Escape, having confes'd their Crime will quickly receive Punishment.

Stockholm, June 22. On Monday last the Queen Grand-Mother receiv'd the Compliments of the Nobility and Foreign Ministers, on her appearing to be out of all Danger from her broken Arm. She was lying on a Couch, and told them she felt but little Fever the first 2 Days after her Fall, and that the Pain of her Arm was very tolerable; which is something remarkable, considering she is above 70 Years old. Count Possé who is newly made grand Governour of this City, is come hither from Saxony to take Possession of that Office. Yesterday the Corps of General Banner was buried, at his Country Seat two Leagues from hence.

Paris, June 24. We had a Report here two Days ago, that the Duke of Marlborough had made a Motion with Design to attack the Duke of Vendome tho' he is so advantageously posted. It alarm'd the Court as well as this City, but the Letters from our Army which arriv'd Yesterday, have made us easy. They tell us, that the Enemy as well as ours continue in the same Camps, and that it was our Wings that had extended themselves for their Convenience: They add, that our Camp is so strong by its Situation, that if our Army was not so numerous as it is, the Duke of Marlborough could not possibly attack us without the greatest Hazard. The Court has sent Order to the Duke of Vendome, not to remove out of his Camp, unless some invincible Necessity constrains him.
